

I operate a small Wireless Internet Service Provider (WISP) in rural Missouri. I have had several challenges in the time that I have operated my business and the major one is the lack of penetration of the currently available unlicensed frequencies. If the unused television channels were available on an unlicensed basis for use the range of my network would be much greater and I could more cost effectively serve many many more people. Give WISPs these unused television channels and we (WISPs) will get broadband access to every American in a short time.
